Lunardi*iLab* is a team of professionals with vast experience in the digital economy and digital transformation. The mission of the project is to bring new entrepreneurial ideas from their origin to their development, reacting efficiently to market changes and using innovative technologies. The Lab is based on 5 connectors, inspired by the energy and synergy generated by knots of a net.

Brought together with the acronym CREEM

(Creativity-Research-Excellence-Evolution-Motivation):

they represent the five concepts that inspire Lunardi*iLab*'s approach, to speed up the processes of growth and of internationalization of start ups and innovative projects.

The hub's approach and philosophy are also summarized by the acronym IKSAS (International-Knowledge-Sharing-Alternative-System), a platform and a method of sharing of the knowledge in a workplace, with the goal of enhancing the key points of entrepreneurial ideas and the resources employed, by using digital technologies to share information.

Bringing together businesses that want to grow
